The list is updated monthly. See the CEE website (www.cee1.org) for the most recent listing.
This list based on the 2014 CEE Residential Refrigerator Specification.

How this list is generated:

Manufacturers submit energy use data to CEE for each model as determined by test procedures set by the US Department of Energy. Models are placed in the tier appropriate to their energy use. Tier eligibility is determined by calculating the percentage of product performance over the Federal Standard, rounded to the nearest whole percent.

CEE does not verify manufacturer data with third-party labs. Based on the increased scrutiny by the US Department of Energy and actions taken by the US Environmental Protection Agency, you may wish to cross-reference the models listed below against the ENERGY STAR® qualified product list.

CEE does not administer rebate programs. Consumers who have questions about filling out rebate forms should contact their local efficiency program administrator, often the local utility.

The accuracy of member program information and of manufacturer product information discussed or compiled in this site is the sole responsibility of the organization furnishing such information to CEE, and CEE is not responsible for any inaccuracies or misrepresentations which may appear

CEE does not itself test or cause to be tested any equipment or technology for merchantability, fitness for purpose, product safety, or energy efficiency and makes no claim with respect thereto. The references and descriptions of products or services within the site are provided "As Is" without any warranty of any kind, express or implied. CEE Brand Information

The CEE logo and service mark must not be used in any manner that would imply CEE endorsement of a company, its products, or its services. That means the CEE logo may not appear in a product description or label. CEE is brand and technology neutral. CEE endorses and promotes levels of efficiency through initiatives and publishes lists of products and services whose manufacturers or providers claim to meet CEE efficiency tiers.

If you reference the name “CEE” or “Consortium for Energy Efficiency,” please note:

1. CEE does not endorse, certify, qualify, or brand products. Therefore, it is incorrect to claim that a product is “CEE certified” or “has earned a CEE rating.”

2. You may indicate that products qualify for or meet one of the CEE tiers of energy efficiency.

The following phrases are accurate: “(product) meets CEE specifications,” “qualifies for a CEE tier,” or best of all, “the manufacturer claims appliance x meets CEE tier y.” We’re happy to review your materials and will do so in a timely manner.

Some products have a “connected” feature that allows for energy control or demand response through your local utility. At this time, CEE specifications do not include requirements for connectivity.

We appreciate your support of energy efficiency.
